

*QuestionsQuestion 1:

The monkey was happy living in the fruit tree, but his happiness was not complete. What did he miss?

Solution 1:

The monkey did not have a company to talk and share. He always felt lonely on the tree.

Question 2:

What did the two friends generally talk about?

Solution 2:

The two friends generally talk about birds and animals. They also discussed the difficulties of the farmers.

Question 3:

Why was the crocodile's wife annoyed with her husband one day?

Solution 3:

One day, the crocodile overstayed with the monkey. His wife had to stay alone for very long time. So she was annoyed with him.

Question 4:

Why was the crocodile unwilling to invite--- his friend home?

Solution 4:

The monkey was his very good friend and his wife wanted to eat the heart of the monkey. That is why he was unwilling to invite his friend home.

Question 5:

What did the crocodile tell the monkey midstream?

Solution 5:

In the midstream, the crocodile told monkey about his wife's wish that she wanted to eat monkey's heart.

Question 6:

How did the monkey save himself?

Solution 6:

When the crocodile told monkey about her wife's wish to eat monkey's heart, the monkey became sad and terrified. But he was clever enough to make a plan to save his life. He told to his friend that unfortunately he left his heart on the tree. The stupid crocodile swam back to the tree to collect the heart. The monkey jumped on to the tree and thus saved himself.

Question 7:

What does the last sentence of the story suggest? What would the crocodile tell his wife?

Solution 7:

The crocodile wanted to make an excuse for his failure of promise. He told his wife that the monkey was a good friend and he would be soon here with his heart and a lots of surprise gift for us.