Solution:

Grandfather visited the zoo after six months to see Timothy and went straight to the cage where he was put in. Grandfather had asked the keeper to transfer Timothy to another cage, he said that the tiger in the cage was not Timothy. He was informed by the zoo keeper that his tiger Timothy had died two months ago, which shocked him in the end.

Discuss the following topics in groups.

Question 1. Shoot animals with a camera, not with a gun.

Question 2. Keeping pets helps us become more loving and tolerant. It also helps us respect life in any form. Do you agree?

Question 3. Have you heard of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA)? What do they do?

Solution 1:

Nature's our best teacher in life. The flora and fauna, it's diversity as great learning in it. By hunting them for sport or food is cruelty and thereby create imbalance in the ecosystem.

Solution 2:

I totally agree with this. When children are introduced to pets at an earlier age they are used to treating them with empathy and compassion. They take care of their hunger, thirst and other needs. They respect and love their furry friends and life in any form.

Solution 3:

The SPCA protects animals in danger and provides shelter for stray, orphaned animals. They offer pet care, treatment, medicines and prevent cruelty towards animals and deals with animal adoption
